Singapore, 14 January 2019 – Singapore-based, sports media and entertainment company, Ringstar Boxing (Ringstar) today announced 12 featured fights for its first show of 2019 happening on Friday 29 March at the Singapore Indoor Stadium with the main event featuring the much-anticipated rematch between Singapore's best-ever boxer, Muhamad "The Chosen Wan" Ridhwan (11-1, 8 KOs) and Namibian veteran, Paulus "The Rock" Ambunda (27-2, 11 KOs) for the WBC Silver Featherweight title. Co-main events include an all-Filipino affair with IBO Bantamweight champ, Michael "Gloves On Fire" Dasmarinas (28-2-1, 19 KOs) battling with Kenny "Big Heart" Demecillo (14-4-2, 8 KOs) for the IBF World Title Eliminator and Thai-New Zealander, Nort "The Assassin from Siam" Beauchamp (17-2, 3 KOs) facing-off against rising Indonesian sensation, Defry "The Unseen Hammer" Palulu (20-2-1, 13 KOs) for the WBC Asia Super Featherweight title. The evening will kick off with four, 4-round bouts, including a women's match between Singapore's promising star, Efasha "The Face" Kamarudin (2-0, 2 KOs) and Indonesia's top ranked, Febriyanti Lubis (1-3).

This will be Ringstar's sixth promotion since 2017 and the first of three shows in Singapore this year with others slated for July and December and a fourth show planned for Malaysia in October. For the March fight card, fans will be treated to the most impressive array of up-and-coming boxers from Asia-Pacific, all matched up with the Ringstar credo in mind: 50/50, competitive boxing matches with integrity, designed to excite fans around the world – a key step in establishing the company as one of Asia's fastest growing sports media properties.

"We are the only fight platform in Asia featuring the best boxers in the region and our March fight card proves this," said Founder and CEO, Scott Patrick Farrell. "Ringstar is already a global broadcast reaching 300 million viewers worldwide and it's just the beginning. With growing numbers of fans, and fighters that are there to win and not just take part, we will change the face of boxing in Asia-Pacific."

About Ringstar Boxing

Ringstar Boxing (Ringstar) is a Singapore-based, sports media and entertainment company founded by CEO Scott Patrick Farrell in 2016 with a vision of developing world champion professional boxers in Asia and bringing billions of people together onto one fight platform. The Ringstar credo of 50/50 competitive matchmaking with integrity where the fights are important and the titles mean something, drew a sold-out show and a global broadcast of 300 million viewers for the last event in Singapore in September 2018, establishing Ringstar as one of Asia's fastest growing sports media properties.
